CHAPTER XIV.

THE accommodation train wandered down through the afternoon sunshine, stopping at every village and every country postoffice on the line. There was a passenger in the smoker who found the steps at these wayside hamlets interminable. He got up and paced the aisle now and then, and his companion reminded him that this was not certain to hasten the hour of their arrival at their destination. "I know that," answered he, "but I've got to beat McCune."

"By the way," observed Meredith, "you left your stick behind."

"You don't think I need a club to face?"

Tom choked. "Oh, no; I wasn't thinking of your giving him. I was beating. I meant to lean on."

"I don't want it. I've got to walk lame all my life, but I'm not going to hobble on a stick."

Tom looked at him sadly for a moment. It was true, and the crossroads might hug themselves in their cells over the thought. For the rest of his life John Harkless was to walk with just the limp they themselves would have had if, as in former days, their sentence had been to the ball and chain.

"Sit down, boy, sit down," said Meredith, and his friend obeyed.

The window was open beside the two young men, and the breeze that blew in soothed like a balm, yet held a tang and spice in it, a hint of walnuts and of eucalyptus. There was a newness in the atmosphere that day, a bright invigoration, that set the blood tingling. The hot months were done with; languor was routed. Autumn spoke to industry, told of the sowing of another harvest, of the tawny shock, of the purple grape, of the red apple, and called upon muscle and laughter, breathing gaiety into men's hearts. The little stations hummed with bustle and noise, big farm wagons ratted off up the village streets and raced with "cut under" or omnibus; people walked with quick steps; the baggage-masters called cheerily to the trainmen, and the brakemen laughed goodbyes to rollicking girls. At times the train ran between shadowy groves, and delicate landscape vistas, framed in branches, opened, closed and succeeded each other, and then the travelers were carried beyond into the level open again and looked out to where the intensely blue September skies ran down to the low horizon, meeting the boundless aisles of corn. It takes a long time for the full beauty of the flat lands to reach a man's soul. Once there, no hills, nor sea, nor growing fan leaves of palm shall suffice him. It is like the beauty in the word Indiana. It may be that there are people who do not consider Indiana a beautiful word, but let it ring true in your ears, and it has a richer sound than Valhalla.

All at once the anger ran out of John Harkless. He was a hard man for anger to tarry with. And in place of it a strong sense of home coming began to take possession of him. He was going home. "Back to Plattville, where I belong," he said to himself without bitterness, and it was the truth. "Every man cometh to his own place in the end."

Yes, as one leaves a gay acquaintance of the playhouse lobby for some hard-headed, tried old friend, so he would have the outer world gospied and come back to the old ways of Carlow. What though the years were dusty, he had his friends and his memories and his old black briar pipe. He had a girl's picture that he should carry in his heart till his last day, and if his life was sadder it was infinitely richer for it. His winter fireside would be not so lonely for her sake, and, losing her, he lost not everything, for he had had the rare blessing of having known her. And what man could wish to be healed of such a hurt? Far better to have had it than to trot a smug pace unscathed. He had been a duellant, a squire, a weary of himself, unfit to fight, a failure in life and a failure in love. That was ended. He was tired of failing, and it was time to succeed for awhile. To accept the worst that fate can deal and to bring courage from it instead of despair—that is success, and it was the success that he would have. He would take fate by the neck. But had it done him unkindness? He looked out over the beautiful, "monotonous" landscape, and he answered heartily, "No!" There was ignorance in man, but no unkindness. Were man utterly wise he would be utterly kind. The crossroads had not known better, that was all.

The unfolding aisles of corn swam pleasantly before his eyes. The earth hearkened to man's wants and answered. The element sun and summer rains hastened the fruition. Yonder stood the brown haystack, garnered to feed the industrious horse that had earned his meed. There was the straw thatched shelter for the cattle. How the orchard boughs bent with their burdens! The big red barns stood stored with the harvest, for this was Carlow county, and he was coming home.

They crossed a byroad. An old man with a streaky gray chin beard was sitting on a sack of oats in a seatless wagon waiting for the train to pass. Harkless seized his companion excitedly by the elbow. "Tommy," he cried, "it's Kim Fentress! Look! Did you see that old fellow?"

"I saw a particularly uninteresting and uninteresting gentleman sitting on a bag," replied his friend.

"Why, that's old Kimball Fentress. He's going to town. He lives on the edge of the county."

"Can this be true?" said Meredith gravely.

"I wonder," said Harkless thoughtfully a few moments later—"I wonder why he had changed around."

"Who changed around?"

"The team. He always used to drive the bay on the near side and the sorrel on the off."

"And at present," rejoined Meredith,

"I am to understand that he is driving the sorrel on the near side and the bay on the off?"

"That's it," returned the other. "He must have worked them like that for some time, because they didn't look uneasy. They're all right about the train, those two. I've seen them stand with their heads almost against a fast freight. See there." He pointed to a white frame farmhouse with green blinds. "That's Win Hibbard's. We're just outside of Beaver."

"Beaver? Elucidate Beaver, boy."

"Beaver? Meredith, your information ends at home. What do you know of your own state if you are ignorant of Beaver? Beaver is that city of Carlow county next in importance and population to Plattville."

Tom put his head out of the window. "I fancy you are right," he said. "I already see five people there."

Meredith had observed the change in his companion's mood. He had watched him closely all day, looking for a return of his malady, but he came to the conclusion that in truth a miracle had been wrought, for the lethargy was gone and vigor seemed to increase in Harkless with every turn of the wheels that brought them nearer Plattville, and the nearer they drew to Plattville the higher the spirits of both the young men rose. Meredith knew what was happening there, and he began to be a little excited. As he had said, there were five people visible at Beaver, and he wondered where they lived, as the only building in sight was the station, and to satisfy his curiosity he walked out to the vestibule. The little station stood in the woods, and brown leaves whirled along the platform. One of the five people was an old lady, and she entered a rear car. The other four were men. One of them handed the conductor a telegram. Meredith heard the official say: "All right. Decorate ahead. I'll hold it five minutes."

The man sprang up the steps of the smoker and looked in. He turned to Meredith. "Do you know if that gentleman in the gray coat is Mr. Harkless? He's got his back this way, and I don't want to go inside. The air in a smoker always gives me a spell."

"Yes, that's Mr. Harkless."

The man jumped to the platform. "All right, boys," he said. "Rip her out!"

The doors of the freight room were thrown open, and a big bundle of colored stuffs was dragged out and hastily unfolded. One of the men ran to the farther end of the car with a strip of red, white and blue bunting and tacked it securely, while another fastened the other extremity to the railing of the steps by Meredith. The two companions of this pair performed the same operation with another strip on the other side of the car. They ran similar lines of bunting near the roof from end to end, so that except for the windows the sides of the car were completely covered by the national colors. Then they draped the vestibules with flags. It was all done in a trice.

Meredith's heart was beating fast. "What's it all about?" he asked.

"Picnic down the line," answered the man in charge, removing a tack from his mouth. He motioned to the conductor, "Go ahead!"

The wheels began to move; the decorators remained on the station platform, letting the train pass them, but Meredith, craning his neck from the steps, saw that they jumped on the last car.

"What's the celebration?" asked Harkless when Meredith returned.

"Picnic down the line," said Meredith.

"Nipping weather for a picnic. A bit cool, don't you think? One of those fellows looked like a friend of mine, Homer Tibbs, or as Homer might look if he were in disgrace. He had his hat hung on his eyes, and he slouched like a thief in melodrama as he tucked up the bunting on this side of the car."

He continued to point out various familiar places, finally breaking out enthusiastically as they drew nearer the town: "Hello! Look there—beyond the grove yonder! See that house?"

"Yes, John."

"That's the Bowlders'. You've got to know the Bowlders'."

"I'd like to."

RUSSIA'S DESIGN

Is to Draw the Japs on and Provoke an Attack on the Yalu.

FORTIFYING THE RIVER

Russian General Staff Convinced that Kuropatkin Will Await the Japanese Initiative.

Southern Manchuria Has Been Converted Into a Scene of Military Activity.

St. Petersburg, April 6.—The Russian general staff is convinced that the Russians will await a Japanese attack on the right bank of the Yalu. They are now busily engaged fortifying the mouth of the river. The Russians are seeking to draw the Japanese on by sending small troops across the river.

St. Petersburg, April 6.—A correspondent who has just returned to the fortress from an inspection trip through southern Manchuria, telegraphs that that country is strikingly full of an unusual and active life, that the troops are vigorous and healthy and animated by a desire for active operations, and that the entire native

A FORTIFIED WATCHTOWER IN MANCHURIA. population, including that of the commercial world, is friendly to Russia and full of faith in the Russian arms. The correspondent says:

"Russian money, which was shaky at the beginning of the war, is again firm. The Chinese volunteer militia formed there present a good appearance, wearing a special uniform with epaulettes bearing the Russian national flag. The natives provide provisions freely and are selling horses brought from the surrounding country. The mandarins are an exception to this general rule, as they are cautious and are trying to carry water on both shoulders. As their conduct is passive, it does the Russians no harm."

"The railroad holds out splendidly and works regularly, all the attaches of the road being imbued with the high importance of their task. Sentries are posted at the boundary and are doing duty in the neutral zone, dividing China and Manchuria. The weather is warm and the rivers are open. In Port Arthur all is quiet and the inhabitants have become accustomed to a state of war, though some of them are impatient that the enemy has been for a long time invisible."

IN CLAY COUNTY

Feud-Ridden District Has Two More Tragedies.

Jackson, Ky., April 6.—Bummer Spicer, confessed slayer of James Johnson, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Hiram Centers and Sam Deaton at the home of Sam Callahan, brother of Sheriff Ed Callahan. Johnson was killed last Friday and Spicer had been in hiding since that time. Johnson was a nephew of J. B. Marcum, who was assassinated last May. Spicer is a member of a prominent mountain family and is distantly related to Congressman South Trimble. Judge James Hargis is conducting the examining trial today.

The charred body of Sam Jones, son of John Jones, who was special elisor for Breathitt county, and who summoned the first jury in the Jet White murder case, was found near here yesterday in a creek still burning, and gashes on the side of his head led to the suspicion of foul play. It is known that he was in company with Thomas B. Combs and Bill Combs Monday night and they were all drinking. The Combs boys say that they lay down to sleep under the cliff after building a fire and that they left Jones during the night. Bill Combs had an ugly cut which resembles a knife wound, on his thigh.

Conspiracy Against Government. San Francisco, April 6.—In the United States district court Former Deputy Sheriff William T. Nasha and Thomas K. Dempsey and Hom Toon, a Chinaman, were convicted of conspiracy against the government. They will be sentenced on Thursday. They were found guilty of deporting old Chinese anxious to return to China, for young men who had attempted to evade the immigration laws and had been ordered to be deported.

THE NEELY CASE

Is at Last Being Heard in Federal Court.

New York, April 6.—After many tedious delays the suit of the United States against Charles W. Neely, former director of finance for the post-offices of Cuba, is in progress before Judge Lacombe and a jury in the United States circuit court. The suit is brought by the government nominally to have a country determine exactly the amount of the alleged Neely defalcation in Cuba, but in reality the United States seeks to hold the $20,000 in cash which it has attached, and which was deposited by Neely as bail, and about $15,000 of other property belonging to him which is also under federal attachment.

C. W. NEELY.

According to Special Attorney General Jones the alleged defalcation will amount to about $140,000. The defense will be that the general amnesty act of Cuba not alone released him from criminal liability, but discharged at the same time any civil liability that the United States might hold against him. Mr. Jones, while admitting that the amnesty act released Mr. Neely from prison, denied that it discharges his civil responsibilities.

Notable Church Festival.

Rome, April 6.—The great Gregorian festival, which began today, was opened at divine service by the vicar of Rome, Cardinal Respighi. Many distinguished persons from other countries have already arrived in Rome, and it is expected that an imposing concourse will be present at the great Gregorian mass to be conducted by the pope in St. Peter's on the 11th inst., as the climax of the festivities.

Failure of Woman's Club.

Chicago, April 6.—The Chief Business Women's club has gone into the hands of an assignee. As soon as the affairs of the club can be straightened out it will be reorganized on a profitable basis and an effort made to pay off the indebtedness. It is said that added expense caused by a recent move to expensive quarters caused the failure.

Pennypacker Withdraws.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 6.—Governor Pennypacker has declined to be a candidate for justice of the supreme court. Shortly afterward the announcement was made that the delegates from Philadelphia and Allegheny counties had endorsed former Attorney General John P. Elkin of Indiana county for the position. Elkin will accept.

Epidemic of Suicides.

New York, April 6.—An unusual number of suicides, at least half of them due to despondency because of inability to secure employment, were reported to the police of Greater New York yesterday. Three of the six victims chose carbolic acid as a means of ending their troubles.

Their Boat Capsized.

Tampa, Fla., April 6.—Five persons, all members of a pleasure party from the Florida Methodist college at Sutherland, were drowned near Anclote lighthouse by the capsizing of their boat.

Russians Learning Japanese.

St. Petersburg, April 6.—In the imperial medical academy a short course of conversational Japanese has been introduced for the benefit of Japanese wounded prisoners.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The house passed the military academy bill without amendment.

George E. Anderson, of Illinois, has been appointed consul at Hang-Chow, China.

It is expected that the Anglo-French treaty will be signed in a few days.

The Geo. C. Murphy pottery company's plant at East Liverpool, Ohio, was destroyed by fire loss $125,000.

Judge James C. Jenkins of Atlanta, Ga., has been appointed a judge at large of the court of first instance of the Philippines.

The Republicans of the Tenth Indiana district have renominated Congressman Crumpacker for the fifth term.

A desperate attempt was made by about fifty convicts at the Missouri Penitentiary to blow up that institution.

According to advices received from Port Arthur the Russians have laid many submarine mines at the mouths of the Yalu and Liao rivers.

The Senate has passed a bill granting 20,000 acres of inferior public lands to the state of Minnesota to be used for experimental forestry purposes.

Orders have been issued for the trial by court-martial of Capt. Amos A. Martin, Fourteenth Infantry stationed at Manila, on the charge of having duplicated his pay accounts.

VIGOROUS DEFENCE

Mr. Grosvenor Answers Charges Brought Against Administration.

SOME TART SPEECHES

Mr. Dearmond Attacks Republicans and Ohio Congressmen Takes Up Cudgels.

Senator Morgan Indicates That He Is Not Through With Panama Question.

Washington, April 6.—The proceedings in the house were enlivened by speeches by Mr. Dearmond and Mr. Grosvenor, the former attacking the Republicans for failure to order an investigation into the postoffice charges and to revive the tariff, and the latter vigorously defending the Republican party and lauding President Roosevelt for the part he played in the postal investigation, the passage of the Cuban reciprocity law and the treaty with Panama for the construction of an isthmian canal. Mr. Grosvenor frequently was interrupted and was applauded by the Republican when he answered the gibes of several Democratic members on the subject of the tariff and the postal investigation. Earlier in the day Mr. Prince (Ill.) in a vigorous speech, predicted friction between the general staff of the army and the secretary of war.

The senate listened to a two-hour speech by Mr. Morgan on the Panama canal question, and then again took up the postoffice appropriation bill, but adjourned without completing its consideration. Some important amendments aside from those suggested by the committee were agreed to, among them one increasing from two to four ounces the size of franked letters, and another adding twenty-five members to the force of rural free delivery agents. Mr. Morgan's speech was in special advocacy of his resolution requesting information from the attorney general concerning concessions to the original Panama Canal company, and was in the main an arraignment of the new Panama company.

His Weight Didn't Help Him.

Philadelphia, April 6.—Herr Placke, the champion of Holland, made a sorry spectacle of himself last night in a fight with Kid McCoy at the Lenox club. Standing six inches taller and weighing over seventy pounds more than his pale-faced opponent, he was beaten almost insensible in less than four minutes. Placke never laid a glove on McCoy except when the men clinched. Before the first round ended Placke was covered with blood from his neck to his waist and both eyes were almost closed. Just before the gong sounded announcing the close of the first round McCoy drove a vicious left flush to the chin, dropping Placke like a log. The gong saved him from being knocked out. He was carried to his corner only to be knocked out ten seconds after the opening of hostilities in the second round.

Three Children Drowned.

Tustin, Mich., April 6.—The three children of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Holmes, Laura, aged thirteen; Hazel, aged eleven, and Wendell, aged nine years, were drowned in a large pond less than forty rods back of their home yesterday. The pond was covered with a thin coat of ice on which the children ventured. They sank together in thirteen feet of water. When the bodies were recovered two hours later, the children's hands were still tightly clasped.

Treasurer Pleaded Guilty.

Winsted, Conn., April 6.—Burton Matoon, formerly state senator and ex-treasurer of the Watertown Savings bank, pleaded guilty in the superior court to four charges of making false entries in the books of the savings bank. He will be sentenced next Tuesday. Matoon also is treasurer of Watertown, and an investigation committee has reported a shortage of $23,000.

Fatal Hunting Accident.

Wingate, Ind., April 6.—Word has been received here that Everett Crane, who was hunting at Demotte, Ind., on the Kankakee river, had been accidentally shot and killed. He was about nineteen years of age. His father, John R. Crane, is a farmer and stock buyer. He left for the scene of the accident, and the body will be brought home for burial.

Wade Brothers' Sentence Confirmed.

Columbus, Ohio, April 6.—The supreme court has affirmed the verdicts of the Lucas county court in the cases of Albert and Ben Wade, brothers, who are under sentence of death for the murder of Kate Sullivan at Toledo several years ago. Both men had been granted a stay of sentence and the supreme court will fix the dates for their electrocution.

Result of an Old Grudge.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 6.—Louis Wilbert, aged eighteen, shot and killed Gus McIntosh at Mannington. An old grudge is said to have caused the murder. McIntosh was armed, but did not draw his revolver. Wilbert escaped.

SIGNIFICANT VOTE

Chicago Very Plainly Indorses Municipal Ownership.

Chicago, April 6.—In the municipal election yesterday the Republicans elected eighteen aldermen, the Democrats sixteen, and one Independent Republican, who repudiated the "machine" in the sixth ward, was chosen a member of the council. The last council was composed of thirty-six Republicans, thirty-two Democrats, one Independent Democrat and one Socialist. The next council will be formed of thirty-six Republicans, thirty-one Democrats, two Independents—one of whom is a Democrat and the other a Republican—and one Socialist. The chief interest in the election, however, centered in the vote on proposed municipal ownership of the street railroads. In this connection what is known as the "Muller law," passed by the last state legislature was submitted to the people. The law authorizes cities in Illinois to construct, own, operate and lease street railroads, and to provide the means therefor. On this proposition the vote stood 152,435 for the proposition and 30,104 against; on the proposition that the city should at once take over the street railroads into its control, the vote stood 120,744 for and 50,893 against; for the temporary licensing of street railroads until such time as the city is prepared to take them over, the vote was 120,181 for and 48,056 against. On the question on whether or not the members of the board of education should be elected by direct vote of the people instead of by executive appointment and confirmation by the city council, as is the present usage, the vote was 115,563 for and 58,432 against.

Milwaukee Election.

Milwaukee, April 6.—Mayor David S. Rose (Dem.) carried the city municipal elections, having a plurality of 5,912 over Guy D. Goff, Republican. The Democrats also control the common council, electing twenty-four members; Republicans thirteen, and Social Democrats nine.

Republicans Take Kansas City.

Kansas City, April 6.—Jay H. Neff (Republican) for mayor and the entire Republican ticket were elected by 1,000 plurality. The Republicans will control the new council.

Unionists Oppose Japs.

Everett, Wash., April 6.—A plot to dynamite the quarters of the Japanese employed by the Mukleto mill was discovered and frustrated. For some time past the feeling against the Japanese has been very bitter, organized labor opposing very strongly. Attempts were made to drive the Japanese away from this locality, and it is believed that the dynamite was a part of the plot.

Apprehension Among Jews.

Vienna, April 6.—Considerable uneasiness exists among the Jewish element of Lom-Palanka, Bulgaria, owing to the murder of a young Macedonian, although a medical commission has certified that it was not a ritual murder. Local agitators have been endeavoring to incite the population of the town against the Jews.

The recent marriage of a couple of cripples, each having only half the proper complement of arms and legs, was noted by the press as a "curious curiosity."

But who notes the marriages which occur daily in which both parties are cripples in health.

Crippled health means, as a rule, insufficient nutrition, and lack of nutrition points to disease of the stomach and digestive and nutritive tract. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect nourishment of the body, and so builds it up in sound health and strength.

"I had been a great sufferer from indigestion for the last nine years," writes Mrs. Margaret Stingle, of Owings Mills, Baltimore Co., Md. "I was such a wreck it seemed dark was near, but today can say I feel like another woman. I have received much and lasting good from Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Favorite Prescription. I have taken twenty-five bottles in all, and followed the advice of Dr. R. V. Pierce, and am happy to say that life is worth living now. A thousand thanks for your treatment."

Do not be cajoled into trading a substance for a shadow. Any substitute offered as "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery" is a shadow of that medicine. There are cures behind every claim made for the "Discovery."

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 large pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of twenty-one one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

AS OLD AS THE PYRAMIDS

That blood poison existed among the ancients has been proven beyond question. It has been traced back thousands of years, and is as old as the Pyramids. This blighting scourge has been handed down from nation to nation and from individual to individual till it has spread to all parts of the world.

Contagious blood poison, as it is called in modern times, begins with a small sore or ulcer through which the virus enters the blood. This is followed by inflammation and swelling of the glands of the groins, a red eruption breaks out on the body, sores appear in the mouth and the throat becomes ulcerated, and the disease takes a deeper hold and the blood becomes more thoroughly infected, the hair and eyebrows drop out, the skin is spotted with copper-colored blotches, the bones and muscles ache, and it seems to the victim of this monster scourge there is not a sound spot in the whole body.

The horror of this awful disease can never be told. The one who contracts it suffers in body and mind, and if the poison is not eradicated transmits the taint to his children, and Contagious Blood Poison thus becomes responsible for many of the ills of childhood—Skin Eruptions, Catarrhal Troubles, Sore Eyes, Scalp Disease, White Swelling, Scrofula and others just as bad. S. S. S., the great vegetable blood purifier and tonic, has long been recognized as a radical and safe cure for Contagious Blood Poison. It counteracts the deadly virus and cleanses and purifies the diseased blood, and under its tonic effects the general health improves and soon all signs of blood poison are gone. The strong mineral remedies, Mercury and Potash, which are so often prescribed for the disease, dry up the sores, skin eruptions and all external signs, but leave the stomach and digestion ruined and the system in such condition that the disease usually returns in worse form than ever.

S. S. S. is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy. $1.00 is offered for proof that it contains a single mineral ingredient. If you have blood poison write for our special directions for treating one's self at home. Our physicians will furnish any information or advice wanted free of charge.

The prohibitions are holding a state convention at Indianapolis and the papers report a larger crowd than usual. They will nominate a full state ticket.

The democratic nominee for mayor, F. W. Wesner, has the record of the present city administration to carry through the campaign which will be more than a load.

SINCE the democrats have nominated their city ticket the republicans are feeling better than ever and they have been feeling mighty good all the time.

MAYOR Shields run on his record and was distanced in the first heat. Prewitt and Redding both run on their records and therefore the handicap was mutual. Prewitt must still run on his record.

As yet we have had no explanation of that $75 fee paid to W. T. Brannaman by the city council for "services in behalf of the city." The people would like to know when the council employed him and in what city case he appeared. And they have a right to know for this fee was paid out of the city treasury.

THE democratic brasses who undertook to dictate everything connected with their primary yesterday have trouble on their hands and lots of it. They are trying to square themselves with some of their brethren but they are having a hard time to explain. In fact they can have no satisfactory explanation. Their arbitrary methods with some members of their party have left some sore spots.

INSTANT RELIEF—Coughs, Croup, Sore Throat—Brazilian Balm, 50 doses 25c.

STRUCK GAS.

But Drill Will Be Sent 50 Feet Deeper.

Gas was struck at the well on Geo. A. Robertson's farm northeast of town Tuesday evening after drilling twelve feet into Trenton rock and at a total depth of 1039 feet. The gas burns a flame of about two feet from an inch pipe and would supply enough gas to run eight or ten stoves. The directors have ordered the drill to go fifty feet lower and ascertain what may be found further down. The well will not be shot until this is done.

DEER LICK.

Little Lizzie Fox has the scarlet fever. She is some better. School closed last Friday. David Ackeret came home Friday from Indianapolis.

Mrs. Louisa McKinsey and child from Vernon are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Braxton Polst. Rev. Severinghaus filled his appointment Sunday afternoon.

The Easter entertainment was a success. All doing their part well. Alfred Joseph, of Hayden, was in this neighborhood Monday on business. Aunt Bettie Cravens is visiting relatives here.

WEST REDDINGTON.

A few from here attended the Easter service at Rockford Sunday afternoon. Miss Lula Brown rides a new wheel. Michael Becker, of Louisville, spent Sunday with his parents here.

A. F. Biddle purchased a new Sudebaker wagon and other farming implements recently. Some of our farmers have just begun sowing clover seed.

Charles Krume made a business trip to Brownstown Monday. Some of the young men who purchased teams to raise tomatoes for the Canning Co., are resting a little uneasy at present.

Everett Craig attended a party given by the Sophomore class at the home of his classmate, Miss Mabel Shields at Seymour Friday night. He reports a splendid time.

Mrs. Charlotte Davis and daughter Nellie, visited in the family of Frank Swengel Friday.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for coughs and colds, 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by W. F. Peter Drug Co.

RHEUMATISM CURED

By Paracamp.

Mr. E. L. Hawkins, 129 West 27th St., New York City, Says:
"I have used Paracamp in a severe case of Rheumatism, and will say that I got immediate relief. I have tried almost every preparation that is now before the public, and find that Paracamp is without question the best remedy for Rheumatism. I wish you success and heartily recommend Paracamp."

Mr. Hawkins is only one out of many thousands that have been cured by the wonderful penetrating remedy Paracamp. This new remedy is a scientific preparation which when applied, opens the pores of the skin, allowing the soothing, cooling oils to penetrate to seat of the ailment, removing the soreness and congestion, drawing out the fever and inflammation by inducing sweating. It sweats out the pain and aches, and this is Nature's plan. Don't ruin your stomach with strong internal medicines for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sore Joints, etc. We guarantee Paracamp to relieve and cure you if used as directed. If it fails your druggist will refund your money. If your druggist don't handle Paracamp ask him to get for you. If he won't do this send direct to us. But don't take any substitute because there is nothing just as good. Paracamp is sold only in 25 cent, 50 cent, and $1.00 bottles. The 50 cent size contains three times as much as the 25 cent size; the $1.00 bottles eight times as much as the 25 cent size. The Paracamp Company, Louisville, Ky., U. S. A. COX PHARMACY CO.

A HAPPY MOTHER

WEATHERFORD, TEXAS, May 14, 1903.

Before my baby was born I was in great misery. I was just able to be about but just as soon as I began to take Wine of Cardui, which had been recommended to me, I felt much better. In fact I feel that if it had not been for this medicine I would not have been strong enough to live through childbirth. But that was made comparatively easy by taking your Wine of Cardui for four months before baby came. Wine of Cardui restored my health as I took it two months afterward. I cannot speak too highly of Wine of Cardui and I am glad to endorse it.

Mrs. C. C. Wood

OH, WHAT A FALL.

City Administration Crowd Turned Down Hard.

The city administration crowd got a hard jolt Tuesday. They hustled hard for the nomination of Mayor Shields, but failed to get the votes. There was no shouting from any of them when the count-out was concluded and the announcement was made that F. W. Wesner had been nominated by a majority of 78. They looked sorry and felt "poorly" and were soon on their way home. The Judge was feeling better but his time to feel bad is coming.

Lon Prewitt fared better than Dr. Shields as he came out with 38 votes to the good. But his real trouble, too, is set for May 3. That is the time when both he and Wesner will fall short.

There were no other contests. In fact there are six places on the ticket not yet filled.

The vote polled was as follows:

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that Science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and give the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

For Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bowel troubles and their attendant nervous affections, these waters have produced wonderful results. They allay gastric irritation, render soluble in the body substances that are harmful, and thus free the body of them. Their action on the kidneys and bowels, as well as on the skin, corrects the acidities due to various kinds of fermentation in the body.

An excellent adjunct to these waters is the good air and the opportunity for exercise in the open.

HOTEL RATES range from $8 up to $35 per week, including free use of all the waters.

Booklet telling all about the waters and giving list of hotels and boarding houses, with their rates, sent free.

THE MILES BOOM

Indiana Prohibitionists Open the General's Presidential Ball.

THE CAMPAIGN SLOGAN

Chairman Rhodes Denounces Many Things and Takes a Rap at the Nicholson Law.

Says There are More Saloons in the State Than Before It Was Passed.

Indianapolis, April 6.—The Indiana State Prohibition convention was opened by State Chairman Charles E. Newlin. Chairman Newlin turned the gavel over to J. C. Rhodes of Kokomo, who delivered a speech in which he condemned many things, including the Nicholson law, which he declared had increased the number of licensed saloons in Indiana 1,600 since its passage. With the 1,055 delegates in the state, an equal number of alternates and the prohibitionists attracted to the meeting, the city is full of them. Mr. Rhodes made the campaign slogan address and closed with a boom for General Miles for president.

THE FINAL MEETING

Indiana Miners' Scale Contract Now Being Fixed Up.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 6.—A subcommittee of five miners and five operators instead of the full joint committee of ten each, met to get the scale contract in shape. As a rule the miners in the state are at work. In some instances the operators are willing they should be idle. The demand for coal is slack, and there is repair work to be done.

At one time near Washington, the men refused to work pending the signing of the scale, and the operators telegraphed here. The statement was made that the Indianapolis agreement provided that the men should continue at work, but miners said that all that was agreed to was that the men be advised to continue at work, as they could not be required by the organization to continue at work with no contract. It is said by the miners' officials that the men are making a mistake by refusing to work, as it will be only a day or two before a contract is signed. On the other hand the operators are unfair, it is said, in giving the public the impression that the men are violating the Indianapolis agreement, putting them in the attitude of being unfit to contract with.

The question was brought up in the secret meeting of the committee and things of a sharp nature were said.

Grain Man's Narrow Escape.
Hillsburg, Ind., April 6.—J. B. Snodgrass, owner of the grain elevator in this place, while repairing machinery at the top of the "chute," fell into the "dump" and was carried down by the ear corn pouring from the big bins. He realized his danger and managed to toss his hat to the floor before he was buried underneath the mass. Employees discovered the hat and, surmising what had happened, dug him out before life was extinct. He was covered by a great mass of corn, but escaped suffocation.

Big Teachers' Meeting.
Warsaw, Ind., April 6.—It is expected that almost 3,500 teachers will be here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week to attend the 22nd annual meeting of the Northern Indiana Teachers' association, to be held in this city and at Winona Lake. The meetings will open on Thursday afternoon in the Auditorium at Winona Lake, and the closing meeting will be on Saturday morning, when the officers will be elected.

Change of Venue Taken.
Lafayette, Ind., April 6.—John F. Judy, who was tried here in February for grand larceny, but who was not convicted owing to a disagreement of the jury, will not be tried again in this county. He has filed affidavits for a change of venue, alleging that there is so much bias and prejudice against him here that he cannot receive a fair trial.

Flood Victim Still Missing.
Logansport, Ind., April 6.—Searching parties are endeavoring to locate the body of Sol D. Brandt, the owner of several summer resorts, who was drowned Saturday. No trace of the body has been found. The city council yesterday appropriated $100 as a reward for the discovery of the remains.

Gas Victim Wants Damages.
Kokomo, Ind., April 6.—Thomas Turley, whose home was wrecked by a natural gas explosion in February last, which seriously injured himself and resulted in the death of his wife, has brought suit against the Indiana Natural Gas and Oil company for $10,000 damages.

Frat Men Meet.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the ver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred-and-one ill effects it produces. THE TUG OF WAR
Republican gubernatorial contest going on at close range.

Indianapolis, April 6.—The real tug of war for the positions on the Republican state ticket will take place during the next twenty days. That is all the time the candidates have left in which to complete their canvass. It was learned today that J. Frank Hanly will come here next Monday to remain until after the convention. He will open headquarters at the Hotel English and complete his campaign from there. Judge Penfield has already opened headquarters here and is as busy as the proverbial bee. Warren Sayre was here today. He is still circuit riding the state, but it is understood that he will have headquarters here within a few days. He has a busy bureau at Wabash now. W. L. Taylor, as a matter of course, has had headquarters here for a long time, as this is his home. With all of the candidates for governor directing their fire from here, there will be enough excitement to satisfy all of the politicians.

It is evident from the talk of the party leaders that the race for the Republican nomination for governor is rapidly drawing to a close, for there are now the usual wind-up stories of combinations. Most of these are to the effect that the field is to be combined against Hanly. It seems to be generally conceded that he is the leading candidate, and the impression has gone abroad that the others will attempt to pool their forces and accomplish his downfall. Sayre and Taylor, according to one rumor, have already agreed that in case neither has sufficient votes to win, that the one having the smallest number is to step aside in the other's favor. If they could throw their delegations together it is conceded that they would present a formidable front and might cause a stampede, but it is not generally believed that a combination will be possible between any of the candidates, for the simple reason that neither will have his district in his vest pocket so that he can dispose of it as he pleases. Although Judge Penfield did not come into the race until a late date, it is said that he has his district in better shape than either of his opponents.

The probability of Senator Albert J. Beveridge being selected as temporary chairman of the Republican national convention at Chicago has filled his friends in Indiana with pleasure. It is generally conceded in his own state that no better man could be selected for such a high honor, as he is eminently qualified both in oratory and as a presiding officer. The keynote speech he made at the convention two years ago here was one of the best ever made at a state convention, and he also showed much ability as a presiding officer during the most turbulent scenes. The only man mentioned besides him for the honor is Congressman Cousins of Iowa, who like Senator Beveridge, is a fine orator, but Indiana Republicans are very hopeful that their favorite will be selected.

Here are a few figures that are interesting in connection with the race for the Republican nomination for governor. Hanly's district has 132 votes, Taylor's 124, Sayre's 121 and Penfield's 98, a total of 475 that may easily be located on the first ballot. The total number of delegates is 1,488; necessary to choice, 745. After the complimentary vote is cast there will be 1,013 votes, out of which a nomination may be made on the first ballot. In order for either candidate to win on the first ballot he would have to get nearly two-thirds of the entire vote of the counties outside the districts where there are no candidates. Politicians have figured on the possibility of Hanly winning on the first roll-call, but it is not believed that anyone will have sufficient following for that.

Bank Failure Made Him Crazy.
Waterloo, Ind., April 6.—Thomas Pfifer, a wealthy farmer of Steuben county, has gone insane from worry over losing $500 in the Kinney bank failure at Angola. He became violent and walked the streets with $3,000 in his hands, and with two revolvers declared that he was looking for the president of the bank, whom he wanted to kill. Pfifer was committed to jail, where he tore a stove to pieces. He was taken to Longcliff.
